Grads Helping Undergrads Understand Graduate School Dialogue Panel

March 22nd, 2013 | 4:00 pm | FIU Modesto A. Maidique Campus | Labor Center 110

At times, being in school can seem overwhelming and the mere prospect of going to graduate school can seem a daunting process. How do you decide where to go? What does the process of applying entail? How do you prepare for the process? How do you decide what kind of research you want to focus on? Well, what better way to find the answers to the questions you may have than to ask graduate students who have dealt with these similar concerns.

The dialogue panel will be comprised of graduate students and professors who are excited to address your varied concerns. The graduate students will also be sharing their experiences and discussing the research they are working on and how they decided on that area of focus. This is a great opportunity to meet with other undergraduate students who are dealing with the same questions that you may have and to build relationships with them. It is also an opportune time to liaise with grad students and professors in the GSS Department.

The program is free to all students; Funded by CSO. Made possible by Alpha Kappa Delta, CSO, and Campus Life. Funded by SGA, Division of Student Affairs, FIU/MMC. Qualified individuals with a disability requesting an accommodation to attend this event must make the request no less than five working days in advance by calling 305.348.6995, or TTY via FRS 1.800.955.8771
