Course Description and Purpose

Are you interested in improving your communication and interaction with people from diverse cultural backgrounds? Have you considered that knowing about cultural diversity, global issues, gender, race and other critical concepts can give you an advantage both in your personal and professional life? Anthropology is a social science discipline that studies humans and human diversity from multiple angles and perspectives, and which has a wide variety of real-world applications. In the US, Anthropology is classically divided in four main subfields: Biological or Physical Anthropology, Archaeology, Cultural Anthropology and Linguistic Anthropology. This introductory course adopts a problem-based learning approach, in which you will learn the content through stories, videos and movies, and case-studies. You will explore a variety of topics, concepts, theories, and applications of Anthropology in national and international contexts. The rich set of examples used in the course will get you ready to analyze human experience, discovering what is common and what is unique about us, both individually and socially. Specially on this semester, the course includes a Science-fiction Module on Biodiversity through different Lenses, developed in collaboration with the Science Fiction Lab at FIU. This is a Global Learning Foundations course, which fulfills one out of two Global Learning graduation requirements.

Course Objectives

Upon completing this course, you will be able to:

1. Identify the different Anthropology subfields, their methods, and applications.
2. Compare the human experience as seen from diverse lenses and perspectives, appreciating the interrelatedness of socio-environmental, economic, religious and political systems.
3. Develop cross-cultural awareness, which can improve your personal sociocultural engagements, as well as professional performance.
4. Reflect on your own cultural background, worldview and biases.
5. Apply anthropological theories, concepts and methods to interpret and solve problems.
6. Use science fiction literature and indigenous perspectives to approach how different cultures and other species relate to and interact with their surrounding biodiversity.

Global Learning Objectives

Upon completion of this course, you will have:

1. Gained or sharpened awareness of the interrelatedness of local, regional, national and global manifestations of sociocultural practices and ideas (Global awareness).
2. Developed the ability to see these practices from multiple perspectives that reflect the interconnectedness of local to global cultural practices (Global Perspective).
3. Engaged and be able to continue to engage in local to global inter-cultural problem solving including creating new ways to solve those problems using tools gained in the class (Global engagement).
Policies

Course Prerequisites

There are no prerequisites for this course.

Textbook and Course Materials

Culture as Comfort (Recommended, purchase NOT needed)

Sarah J. Mahler

Pearson; 1st edition; 2012

ISBN-10: 0205880002

You don't need to purchase this book. All book chapters are available to students in the Modules tab on Canvas.

Students will be reading and reviewing other materials (online materials, journal articles, blog posts, videos) that the instructor will assign to the correspondent course Modules, and which will be made available on Canvas.

Expectations of this Course

This is a Certified Hybrid Course, which means that the course content will be delivered through a mix of face-to-face and online formats, with a 50% reduction in class time. Expectations for performance in a hybrid course are the same for a traditional course. You are expected to dedicate around 5-6 hours to online course activities every week, in addition to the 1 hour/15 minutes of face-to-face weekly meetings. Hybrid courses are more flexible and adaptive to your own needs and allow for social interaction, which can be more effective regarding improved cross-cultural communication and engagement.

You are expected to:

- Review the getting started page located in the course modules;
- Take the practice quiz to ensure that your computer is compatible with the Canvas learning management system;
- Interact in class and online with instructor and peers;
- Review and follow the course calendar and weekly outlines;
- Respond to discussions by the due date specified.
- Respond to emails within 48 hours;
- Submit assignments by the corresponding deadline.

The instructor and teaching assistant will:

- Log in to the course several times per week;
- Respond to emails within 24 hours;
- Be available to discuss students’ questions and/or any issues through online meetings outside of office hours as needed;
- Strive to grade assignments within 7 days of the assignment deadline.

Course Communication

Communication in this course will take place via the Canvas Inbox. Check out the Canvas Conversations Tutorial (https://community.canvaslms.com/t5/Video-Guide/Conversations-Overview-All-Users/ta-p/383696) or Canvas Guide (https://community.canvaslms.com/docs/DOC-10574-4212710325) to learn how to communicate with your instructor and peers using Announcements, Discussions, and the Inbox. I will respond to all correspondences within 24 hours.

The instructor will use Announcements to communicate with the class, give feedback on discussions and assignments, send reminders about assignments, and other important communication. Announcements is an official communication channel between the instructor and students, so make sure carefully to read them!

Zoom Video Conference

Zoom is a video conference tool that you can use to interact with your professor and fellow students by sharing screens, chatting, broadcasting live video/audio, and taking part in other interactive online activities.

We will be utilizing this tool for guest lectures or remote participation in class as needed, as well as for office hours to be held with students individually, to be arranged by email.

Zoom meetings can be accessed via the Zoom link in the course navigation menu. Once you click on the Zoom link, it will route you to join the meeting for the respective class session. You will also be able to view upcoming meetings, previous meetings that you have already joined, and meeting recordings. Before joining an actual class session:

- Reference the Zoom Student Tutorials (https://fiuhelp.force.com/canvas/s/article/Zoom-students) to learn about the tool, how to access your meeting room, and share your screen.
- Access the Zoom Test Meeting Room (https://zoom.us/test) to test out the software before joining an actual session.

If you encounter any technical difficulties, please contact the FIU Canvas Help Team (https://canvas.fiu.edu/support). Please ensure you contact support immediately upon the issue occurring.

Assignments

This course has 5 quizzes (plus the Syllabus quiz), 5 online and written assignments and 7 discussions, which may include follow-up class activities and course content reviewed in class. There are no exams.

Quizzes

Quizzes will cover material from each of the Module’s course materials (required lectures, readings, and videos, plus materials worked in class) to which it is assigned. Quizzes will be available between Monday and Sunday at 11:59 pm on the week they are due.

Each quiz will have 10 questions and is timed at 30 minutes (unless for students with DRC accommodations). You can retake each quiz up to 3 times during the time the quiz is active, and then it becomes unavailable.

Important: You cannot reproduce or share quiz questions with anyone. This would be cheating!

In order to mitigate any issues with your computer and online assessments, it is very important that you take the Practice Quiz from each computer you will be using to take your graded quizzes and exams. Assessments in this course are not compatible with mobile devices and should not be taken through a mobile phone or a tablet.

Online assignments

In this semester-long course, you are required to complete three individual online assignments (e.g. answering questions about case-studies, readings, videos or class content, producing visual materials to illustrate concepts, completing tasks connected to the textbooks, share personal reflections, etc) connected to the course content. You are also required to complete two written assignments connected to the Science-fiction/Library of Babel Module 5 on Biodiversity through Different Lenses. The online assignments will also fulfill the Global Learning requirements by approaching its three main learning objectives: global awareness, global perspective; and global engagement.

These assignments will be announced and due as follows:

- Assignment 1: announced on Week 1, covering Modules 1 and 2, due on January 29, by 11:59 pm.
- Assignment 2: announced on Week 5, covering Modules 3 and 4, due on February 12, by 11:59 pm.
- Assignment 3: announced on Week 6, covering Modules 5 and 6, due on April 16, by 11:59 pm.
- Module 5 Written assignment 1: Scientific extrapolation, due on March 19, 2023, by 11:59 pm.
- Module 5 Written assignment 2: Creating a zine, due on March 26, 2023, by 11:59 pm.

Online assignments handed late will be penalized according to the criteria below:

- One day late: 20% discount
- Two days late: 40% discount
- Three days late: 50% discount
- More than three days late: zero (unless if providing required satisfactory documentation)

For more information, please review the important information about the assignments

Discussions

Students are required to participate in in-class and online discussions approaching course content.
Discussion topics will be introduced in the beginning of each new module, and available until Sunday, 11:59 pm in the week that they are due. Each student is expected to post at least two comments for each discussion: one initial post to set up his/her perspective on the topic, and a second post to respond to other students’ comments. If the student has only one post, the grade will be 50%. To get 100% of the possible grade for discussions, the student needs to have at least 2 posts, engaging with course material.
If the student fails to submit his/her post(s) by Sunday, 11:59 pm when it is due, the grade will be zero for that assignment. No after deadline/late postings will be accepted.

The e-space of the discussions may NOT be used for the transmission of personal message from a student to another, or from a student to the professor. For the latter, the course’s e-mail and message posting systems must be used. Keep in mind that your discussion forum postings will likely be seen by other members of the course. Care should be taken when determining what to post. Discussion entries will be evaluated for thoughtfulness and evidence that you are engaging the course materials.

Class participation

In this hybrid format course, you are required and expected to attend the weekly face-to-face sessions.
You will be assessed for attendance and engagement in class, which will each be worth 50 points in your final grade, for a total of 100 points or 10% of your final grade. Students with unexcused absences totalling less than 75% of classes will automatically fail the class. Excused absences will be considered with appropriate medical documentation.

Class attendance will be taken by the Professor or TA in the beginning of each class. Late students need to come to talk to the Professor after class to get your attendance updated in the attendance sheet. More than 20 minutes late will be marked as an absence.

Class engagement will be assessed by the instructor or TA through observing and recording student's engagement in class such as: a) participation in and completion of class activities; b) observing and respecting good classroom behaviour, such as turning off or muting cell phones, not being distracted by or working in other activities during class; c) being respectful of the instructor, TA or other colleagues when they are speaking, presenting or asking questions; and d) letting the instructor know when they will be tardy or absent from class.

Discussions: criteria 1, 3 and 5.

Online Assignments: all 5 criteria, unless otherwise noted in the Assignment description.

Extra Credit

There are multiple ways to receive extra credit. At the bottom of several modules, you will find Extra Credit opportunities and you can find them also in the Extra Credit section of the Assignments page list.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism will not be tolerated - Important: We use the Turnitin tool to detect plagiarism in your essays (literal copy from an existing source, be it written text or video). In case we detect plagiarism in your essay, the following procedures will be adopted:

1. First time plagiarism detected: talk to student and discount 20% on essay grade.
2. Second time plagiarism detected: talk to student, discount 50% on essay grade.
3. Third time: zero on essay/assignment, student will be sent to Dean of Students office for further actions.

Syllabus Caveat

Please note that the instructor reserves the right to alter the syllabus due to need and/or emergent circumstances. Students will be advised about any change made to the syllabus.
