COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course provides an overview of the discipline of sociology and will introduce you to the sociological perspective in examining our lives and social experiences, as well as many issues facing society today. We will explore the relationship between society and the individual. Specifically, we will look at how society functions and is organized, and how these influence individual motivation, understanding, action, and well-being. We will cover basic sociological ideas concerning social relations, social interaction, social structure, and social change and you will be introduced to key issues examined by sociologists such as race, class, gender, sexuality, religion, education, health care, crime, violence, media, and globalization. CLASS STRUCTURE

This is not a lecture course though I will present some content each week; it utilizes Team-Based Learning (TBL). Most likely you have never been in a course using TBL so please read carefully: TBL help you prepare for classes by doing preparation work outside of class and applying it inside of class. Do not expect the professor to lecture much; instead most class time will involve applying and enhancing knowledge through in-class team projects. Don't confuse teams with groups. You will learn the difference; for now, please do not think this will be a class with group projects. To repeat, you are expected to get exposure to the course content prior to class, will be quizzed on your understanding of this content prior to class (REVEL quizzes-WILL BE COMPELTED THROUGH REVEL), and then you'll spend most class time applying this information via short in-class projects with your team. You will be assessed for both your individual and teamwork – see grading below.

Learning is not the same as reading, watching etc. Research shows that it takes most people several exposures to learn new content. This is the main reason why in this course you start learning material through the required preparation work, then apply the content in class and then you are assessed in different ways. This approach helps knowledge and critical thinking “stick” but it may seem strange to you at first. That's intended. Taking you outside your educational comfort zone is why you're in college in the first place and in my class you'll be outside your cultural comfort zone much if not most of the time. This may be the only SOCIOLOGY course you take in your entire life, so my goal is that key understandings about human and society stay with you for a lifetime – and are not forgotten within six months as is true of most course content.

GRADING SYSTEM: To help you to succeed in the class, grades are always available to you online through CANVAS grade center. You don't need to ask the professor!

The cut-off points (as a percentage) for all work will be:

93 A, 90 A-, 87 B+, 83 B, 80 B-, 77 C+, 73 C, 70 C-, 67 D+, 63 D, 60 D-

Depending on overall student performance this semester, the listed cut points might stay as listed or might be dropped 1 point. If dropped, you will be informed through email.

1. PARTICIPATION and TEAM PRESENTATIONS (10 % OF GRADE)

1.a Participation: You are expected to come to every class, arrive on time and come to class having done the work assigned to that week. In addition, you must participate in class and in your team, as in-class activities worth 30% of your final grade (Participation, Presentations, In-Class TEAM Reports). You cannot be a slacker, as your team members will evaluate your participation and performance at the end of the semester. Everyone in the class has the responsibility of making the classroom a "safe" environment where everyone feels comfortable expressing their thoughts and in which everyone can feel that their opinions are respected, even when they are not shared by all members of the class. Class discussions and activities will help you to understand the connection between what is being taught in class and how it relates to your everyday life.

1.b Team Presentations: Each week all or some teams will present their work that they complete during class time to other teams. Be ready to present your in-class team activity/report to class. I will ask different teams and different students to present each week. You will earn 10% by presenting your work to others in addition to participating in class in general.

Attendance Policy: You should not miss more than 1 class as it will negatively affect your overall grade. If you need to miss a class due to illness (medical doctor's note), religious observances or team participation (official paper work) you must notify me prior to the class. I will accommodate legitimate, verifiable cases of illness and emergencies in addition to religious holy days (two-weeks in advance notice).

MISSING MORE THAN ONE CLASS WITHOUT AN OFFICIAL EXCUSE WILL BRING YOUR OVERALL GRADE DOWN 2 POINTS PER CLASS MISSED.

2. INDIVIDUAL READINESS ASSURANCE TESTS (iRATS)- REVEL QUIZZES (15%)

Individual Assurance Tests (IRATs) AKA short quizzes: IRATs are short multiple choice, True/false questions on the week's content that you will take individually (iRAT) online through REVEL before class. You are assigned one chapter from REVEL e-text each week. After reading the Chapter, you will take the Chapter Quiz prior to class. See deadlines on the Syllabus and on REVEL.

3. INDIVIDUAL ASSIGNMENTS (20% OF GRADE)

There will be several short individual assignments throughout the semester. They will worth 20% of your Final Grade. You will submit them online via CANVAS prior to class when assigned.

4. IN-CLASS TEAM ACTIVITIES (20% OF GRADE): TEAM-BASED

The weekly class sessions are a main source of learning for the course. Please arrive to class on time and plan to stay for the entire session. There will be multiple activities during class sessions throughout the quarter. These may include quizzes, short reflections, film viewing guides, and other team activities. No make-up or late assignments will be accepted. Missing more than one activity will have a negative effect on your grade in the class. You will mostly work in teams to complete in-class activities. You will submit final reports through CANVAS. You will be assigned to teams during the first (or second) week of the semester. You will assess your team members' individual performances via using ipeer on CANVAS. Your individual teams grades will be calculated by taking the following factors into consideration: number of points collected as a team, your attendance, your team performance, my observation of your team performance and participation, and your participation and performance grade. (Global awareness; Global Perspectives; Global Engagement).

5.FINAL GLOBAL LEARNING PROJECT (15%)

This individual outside class assignment involves more personal challenge, thought and sociological analysis than the short assignments. It will be assigned at the end of the first month of class. You can find further detailed guidelines on CANVAS.

6. FINAL EXAM (20% OF GRADE)

Final exam will be cumulative. It will be multiple choice, short answer, and essay. It will cover materials from text, additional readings, lectures, discussions and films. If you miss class, it is your responsibility to ask fellow students for notes. You can also go to CANVAS to find lecture notes. Some, but not all of the films are available through library.
